A newly designed technology to make your transport trolley program not only more powerful, effective and attractive - but magic. There are no more bulging or protruding "corner pillars" and no more rough welding seams. Furthermore, the frame profile height has been increased to provide even more stability. This does not simply lead to a functional improvement but at the same time it virtually creates a perfectly shaped new look for the MultiVario transport trolleys. German Patent 39 17 279
